Darren FRISINA

Darren currently lives and works in Melbourne, Australia.

He is an emerging artist, working primarily in oils. With a background in graphic design, his goal is to create a simple statement for each composition through the use of colour, shape and texture.

Darren enjoys finding daily life subjects and scenes that may often be overlooked but once caught in the paint, can provide a pleasing snapshot or memory of a time and place.

He has previously sold his work through the Brunswick Street Gallery and Foreman Gallery and Framing in Melbourne and has paintings held in private collections internationally.
