Brett Whitcher

Brett Whitcher was born in Ballarat, Victoria where he still resides and works as an Artist.

Brett's inspiration for his painting comes from nature, with his passion of growing both indoor and outdoor plants developing over several years.

He is self-taught and it was his love of growing and nurturing plants, in particular Monstera, that inspired him to dabble in art, and so his love of painting began. Brett's home studio is surrounded by plants which give him the focus to create fun and interesting art works.

His current medium is Acrylic on canvas and specializes in painting the Monstera Plant.

Artists Statement.

"My exhibited artwork is bright and bold designed to light up any wall. The theme of my work is the Monstera plant a native plant of Mexico.

I have attempted to capture the natural green and yellows, form and texture of the plant as well as having fun with the background colours often associated with Mexico."
