Painting Clouds Workshop.

Immerse yourself in art & beauty with this wonderful 1-day workshop with the talented Sharryn Jenkinson.

Sharryn Jenkinson is an oil painter specialising in large scale statement pieces, depicting huge skies, clouds and dramatic storms. She loves to paint clouds... "I am a bit obsessed actually. Just when I think I am done with clouds I walk outside and get inspired all over again."

Sharryn uses her hands to paint in the Alla Prima technique, letting the painting develop intuitively, only using a palette knife and a big house brush to form ocean, land or any other intriguing concept that may captivate her.

Sharryn not only has a love affair with clouds... she has a strong desire to share her love for painting. Her bubbly personality & enthusiasm will excite you and have you wanting to connect with your creative side immediately!

You will begin your day with an artist intro and a preview of works currently hanging in the art gallery, followed by a guided demonstration by Sharryn. Then... you'll put your hands on the canvas and just go!

The 5-hour workshop will give you lots of time to be guided by Sharryn, to experiment and ultimately develop a new skill. The workshop will be held in the light filled St Lawrence Room where you can be inspired by the clouds by just looking up!

With only 10 attendees per day, there will be lots of one-on-one time with Sharryn, enabling you to finish your piece before leaving.
